XXVII Auction Sale

— OFFICE OF —

Geoffrey Charlton Adams

NUMISMATIST

New York City, U. S. A.

Dear Sir:—An old numismatic adage says: "You cannot be successfully a collector and a dealer at the same time," and though we have often striven to prove the adage false we give up at last and in the within pages will be found our collection of pachydermous coins that we have spent so many pleasant hours over, and which we now bid adieu. Since 1879 we have made and afterwards disposed of, just eight collections of coins, etc. In 1880 we disposed of our collection of U. S. Cents, in London, and we have never since seen such an aggregation of fine pieces together in one collection. In 1884, through the late Mr. Frossard, we sold our collection of American gold and later our collection of fractional currency. In 1888 we disposed of, to private parties, the finest lot of siege pieces that this country has ever seen. 1892 saw the dispersal of our stamp collection to a collector in Brussels, and in 1893, through the late Mr. Frossard, we sold the finest collection of Canadian coins ever known outside the Dominion. 1895 took away from us our Roman Family Denarii, complete as it was in every variety, bar ten, and containing two unpublished pieces. Two years ago we got rid of our "Russians" and now here goes the herd of "Elephants." In this lot will be found some particularly choice pieces from well-known collections, and the whole is sold absolutely without reserve. And in closing we want to say that no collection of all that we have made has given us greater pleasure or deeper research. We only regret that we cannot continue along these lines, but we haven't the time or inclination, and as the field is very limited we should eventually reach a point where we could go no further, so what's the use. But this must not be considered as a "swan song." We may at some future time, when we have retired from our commercial pursuits, commence collecting again along some new lines, and if the "spirit moves us" we shall probably not be able to resist. The balance of the catalogue is made up of small consignments, all worthy of your attention, particularly the superb numismatic library of Mr. Fuller. As good numismatic literature is seldom offered, you now have your opportunity.

Very truly yours,

GEOFFREY CHARLTON ADAMS.
